1. Will I miss the old _____?
_____, everything about the new Earth will be _____

2. Will the new Earth have a _____ and _____?

“The city does not need the sun or the moon to shine on it, for the glory of God gives it light, and the Lamb is its lamp.” Rev 21:23

“The sun will no more be your light by day, nor will the brightness of the moon shine on you, for the LORD will be your everlasting light, and your God will be your glory.” Is 60:19

“For our light and momentary troubles are achieving for us an eternal glory that far outweighs them all.” 2 Cor 4:17

“...for the LORD will be your everlasting light...” Is 60:19

“...the glory of God gives it light, and the Lamb is its lamp...”
Rev 21:23b

“I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of life.” John 8:12

_____, there will be sun and moon.

3. Will there be _____ on the new Earth?

“There will be no more night. They will not need the light of a lamp or the light of the sun, for the Lord God will give them light. And they will reign for ever and ever.” Rev 22:5

I think that the best test to determine if something will be a part of the new Earth is to go back to Genesis and see if it was a part of God’s original _____.

“God called the light "day," and the darkness he called "night." And there was evening, and there was morning—the first day.” Gen 1:5

Darkness itself is not _____.

_____, there will be darkness on the new Earth.

4. Will there be _____ on the new Earth?

“Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and there was no longer any sea.”
Rev 21:1

So the sea presented a vast barrier for _____,
_____, and _____. The prospect of
“no more sea” was very positive for the original readers.

Were there seas before there was sin?

“And God said, "Let the water under the sky be gathered to one place, and let dry ground appear." And it was so. God called the dry ground "land," and the gathered waters he called "seas." And God saw that it was good.” Gen 1:9-10

_____. There will be seas on the new Earth.
